

Customer Issue

My laptop charger order was placed two weeks ago, but the package has not arrived. Tracking first showed delivery on Monday, then changed to delayed without a new date. The carrier could not locate the shipment using my tracking number. My payment was processed immediately, and I need the charger for remote work. Please investigate the shipment, confirm its current status, and explain my options if it is lost. I would appreciate a replacement or refund according to your policy. Please tell me what additional information you need from me to resolve this delivery issue quickly and keep me informed.
