

Employee Benefits Policy

Version 4.0 | Effective date: January 1, 2026

1 Eligibility and Enrollment

Regular full-time employees may enroll in eligible company benefit plans during the annual enrollment period or within 30 days of a qualifying life event. Coverage begins on the date shown in the plan confirmation, not necessarily on the employment start date.

2.1 Medical Coverage

Eligible employees may enroll in the company medical plan and may select available dependent coverage. Premiums, deductibles, covered services, and exclusions are defined in the insurer's plan documents and the benefits portal.

2.2 Dental and Vision Coverage

Eligible employees may enroll in available dental and vision plans during the applicable enrollment window. Claims and coverage questions should be directed to the plan administrator using the contact details in the benefits portal.

2.3 Retirement Plan

Eligible employees may contribute to the company retirement plan according to the plan administrator's enrollment rules. Contribution rates, vesting, and any company contribution are governed by the current plan document rather than this summary.

3 Qualifying Life Events

Marriage, divorce, birth or placement of a child, loss of other coverage, and similar events may create a special enrollment window. Submit supporting documentation through the benefits portal within 30 days of the event unless the plan document states a different deadline.

4 Eligibility Changes and Contacts

Benefits eligibility can change when employment status, work location, or employment ends. Contact HR Benefits for a current plan summary and contact the plan administrator for claim decisions. This policy does not promise benefits not described in the applicable plan documents.
